Art Unit: 1616

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 1-28 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-3 of U.S. Patent No. 669990. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the instant claims are the same step, application to feats, of the instant compositions. The patent claims are to compositions consisting essentially of the instant ingredients and ratios thereof, while the instant claims are devoid of adjuvants. Prima facie obviously equivalent.

Claims 1, 3-5, 7-10, 12, 16-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, because the specification, while being enabling for 8-14, fatty acid mixes as, does not reasonably provide enablement for specific fatty acids and for  $c_7$  acid nor sorbitol. The specification does not enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to practice the invention commensurate in scope with these claims. The case is a continuation; the specification of which does not recite any specific acids; nor does it recite  $c_7$  acids or sorbitol.

Claims 1-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kabara-EP0530861.

See p.4, bottom: sorbitol and 2 or more fatty  $c_6$ - $c_{18}$  acids are topically applied. The sorbitol replacement is at 1-5%. Also, propylene glycol-isopropanol are present (p.5, lines 32-35) with capryl/capric acid at 1-5% (example 1). The concentrations usable are not limited and one in the art would find it obvious to increase or decrease the carrier glycol, depending on how thick or viscous the composition is desired.
